Adame

Y^u could never look upon any man, but wth a faire eyes upon me, & I looked wth a faire and a good one Vous m'avez regardé de bon oeil, when it hath pleased Y^u to remember that I was in the world, and ^{able} in some manner to doe Y^u service. Whereupon Y^u will not be againe to bestow the ^{multiplicall} favour of a good eye upon me (for the looks of the ^{two} faire our are a common blessing) upon any one) I doe humbly intreate Y^u. Let me be condemned to a more ^{suble} ~~proporcionable~~ payment for it, then I must confesse this to be, and the proporcion that shall be found betweene the benefit and the reward (will make me bold to say, (which now I doe without blaspheming, that by the proofs of my ^{able} service I ~~shall always be found~~ ^{deserve to be} ~~recompensed~~ ^{recompensed})

In your Obedience. Where I did not receive the Love of Y^u letter
