Nov. 18. 1402. SIR VALENTINE BROWNE to CECIL.

Has borrowed 600*l.* of Adam Pindelburie, of Berwick, which he desires may be repaid to him in London.—Berwick, 18 Nov. 1570. Signed.

Add. Endd. P.  $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Nov. 18. 1403. The EARL OF SUSSEX to CECIL.

Sends a copy of the Commendator of Dunfermline's commission, who arrived at Alnwick yesternight. If he credited Scottish bruits he might gather that the King's side would slip from the Queen of England if they could either procure countenance for their King in any other place or reconcile themselves secretly to their Queen, and that the Commendator has some such matter committed to his handling. This factious time in Scotland is so full of practises and false devices on both sides that it is hard to give credit to either in any matter that may be prejudicial to the adverse.—Widderington, 18 Nov. 1570. Signed.

Add. Endd., with seal. P.  $\frac{3}{4}$ .

Nov. 1404. Commission for the Commendator of Dunfermline.

Appoints him ambassador from the King of Scotland to the Queen of England.—Edinburgh, Nov. 1570.
