

Though I have not the honour to be well known vnto you, yet my misfortune enforceth me, vmbly to desire a favour from you, which I am, the rather encouraged too, having receaved some testimony, of His Highnes inclination to fauour me, in the Straits, I am, all this present, caft, by my late mischance: my desire is, to absent my self, 2 or 3 months, out of the country, and my vmbly suite to you, I may receive some assurance, from your hand, to do it, without hazardinge, his Highnes favour; which I will not despair to be restored, by, in conuenient time: for I am confidant your owne noble disposition carries you, to a favorable opinion, of the distressed, and in that regard alone, I thus farre trespass upon you, and shall omitt no opportunity to express my selfe, more fully emb: 9th styl: veteri:

39:

Yr affec: & fathfull vmbly servant
Wm: Paget.

Hug. 37.

