

June ii sty no. 1640.

If it may be learned obligation where there is so challenging a merit, I may justly say you are much obliged to my Lady Kilgrew for her good opinion, but howsoever I am just you are for her good wishes for those are things not any way fastned to desert, but flowing freely from the will of the courteous bestower. wherof I can relate her no niggard but a very countifull and free Impartive.
 Shee gave me care of this boxe and charged me with the delivery of it to your selfe. my occasions permitts mee not that honour, nor civility any longer to detain it: wherfore I have tookt this conveniency of sending it by this Gentleman, brother to Sr Robert Honiwood, who willingly embraced the occasion coveting the honour of kissing your hands: I must acknowledge my selfe favour'd by fortune that gave me also this opportunity of sending my respects to you accept this as an earnest of a more earnest desire and a pledge of a future endeayour of approving my selfe your most humble servant

 August 37.

A Monsieur

Monsieur Hugens
