

Sir

My Ensign hath lately received a Letter containing directions to accommodate me wth 50 guilders ~~from~~ by Capt. Killigrew's order, and upon his next coming to the Hague, they should be delivered to him, which makes mee very sensible of the prosecution of your most noble favours to mee, by tendering such a sume of money for reliefe of my late losses. Sir, I have accepted of this sume, to make even part of some reckonings for which I am indebted by means of this casualty, I am something confident it will not be long ere I have a supply from my Mother, out of which I shall not faile to make repayment to you, not out of doubt, but that you have bin answerable for this sume, which I have made use of. Sir, I beseech you make a favourable conjecture, and beleve, I did not at first embrace what now I have accepted, to rubb of some small debts, which oft prove more hurtfull then greater, if they should not in time bee taken of, for it was far from me to esteeme your letter (which you sent mee) a complement, upon which I have presumed you will pardon,

Sir

Your faithfull and most obedient servant,

Dort Febr. 28
 1672.

George Rawlinz

Hug. 37.

For the Honorable and most Noble friend, Sir Constantijn Huygens

At the Haye.

1662.

