

Je

by the greater favour of his highness my passage was safe and speedy hitherto, and am to acknowledge it to his highness protection, whom your particular respects are to be remembered with a just sense thereof, and as I shall have opportunity shall so manifestly as may assure you that I shall very entirely depend by you, the assistance was pleased to offer me whether I know in manner. But further intimating not his requests. otherwise than for a licence for which I went on to Holland, but since I came hither having spoken with him am persuaded that he hath propounded more of his former intreats that the physician may know I know not of his coming nor of his requests though he hath been employed by me for buying of Demos which I send over <sup>with</sup> them, and whose exact to these matters <sup>specimens</sup> have prevailed with him to surrender the specimens. What I <sup>desired</sup> upon review cannot approve. but rather afflicted for the same. and have therefore thought fitt to earnestly pray, his highness may understand, I am more sensible of the carefull regard due, for the preservation of any misunde-standing that may happen from any solicitation and therefore have sought by this to vindicate my selfe, therein, as being about my private Tones, and now knowne distinct. not but that what was desired conduced much to his majesties service. but yet cannot approve any thing that may renew further discourses of the Premier. for any his particular respects to his majesty. and I conceive this liberty will be the joye of these matters, The advice I most here this inclosed will inform you to present it to his highness, who having been pleased to allow my former acceptance, hasten this to <sup>hope</sup> ~~send~~ for the like Audiences. former reception. as more confident able and from thence those hours presumed to weary you, as well as wast much of your time; yett allow me this request. that if you know any Gentleman whom I may see <sup>his</sup> highness you will be pleas'd to give me the opportunity to manifest any earnest desires, as well as readiness. to make such humble returns of my fidelity. and regards. to his highness that may assure my ambition only layes in honoring and serving him, and I shall not doubt but I may be found usefull to his service, if his highness' goodness could allow confidence so early to a stranger; by giving those to the experience and your self Credit. you will further and that greatly, always, to serve and thank you
