

Sir.

I should bee extriably troubled, if I where not assured that my silence you rather will attribute to the want of matter, then any forgetfulness in me: therefore all that I can say is that Mr. Ogle and I are ever your most humble servants, and we doe both long and haisten our selves to come to the Hague in hopes to see and enjoy you and all yours.
 believe it sir we shall make it our onely business next having render'd our duty to their Majesties in ^{where} ~~which~~ if we may bee preserved, it will bee a great addition of that felicity and happiness where of they are the onely founders and us both in particular oblig'd to profess our selves to bee and always to remaine.

Favour
and grace

Sir.

Your most humble and faithfull servants

D. Swann

Wroth the 22
 of January.
 1646.

my most humble service I pray to all the Ladies that take in hand the Bridgrome. and to tell them there is which I confesse I long to see. and to tell them there is much a doe about nothing.
 I shall by the next
 send you some fine lessons for the virginals and hope ere long to come and play them unto you and to assure you of my humble service

I have been extremely troubled of late... that my mind has been much affected... of matter, this and perhaps other... all that I see in the world...
and I am sure that I shall never...
be able to see any more of the world...
I have been very much troubled...
and I am sure that I shall never...
be able to see any more of the world...
I have been very much troubled...
and I am sure that I shall never...
be able to see any more of the world...

Dear Mr. Swann...
I have been very much troubled...
and I am sure that I shall never...
be able to see any more of the world...
I have been very much troubled...
and I am sure that I shall never...
be able to see any more of the world...

De Monsieur
