

Sir

Mrs Luad having told me she hath a desire to speak with you of some affairs of her own, have undertaken to bring her to your house knowing how willing you are to oblige those have anything to desire of you especially ladies, if it trouble you not we will come this morning and lest you may be tempted with our Beauties you will give us leave to keep our Masters one. This your hands from

Sir

your humble servant
J. de Lencastre

To my worthy friend Sr Constantijn
Huygens