I understood by Monsieur Huygens of your coming to Breda, of which I am heartily glad, but sorry we shall loose you so long out of this country, I have sent therefore an express to Utrecht to my wyfe to lett her know of it, and if her health will give her leave I know she will not faile to be here against your coming, that so both of us may have once more the happiness to see you, and if it may be with out trouble to waight upon you as farr as chawers or Brussels, I hope at least I shall be admittid to this favour as being one that ever shall remaine.

Sir

Your most humble and most affectionate servant.

W. Swannep.

Breda the 2 of June.
