

To m^r. X.

Lambe.

ro. Jan. 1654

S^r.

Copie.

45

I was at an end of my Books, and y^r: Comendator so troublesome at sea, that I could but now get a small measure from France, where y^r: see they are printed.
Experiments will shew y^r: y^r: will no doubt by the dilig^e. And yet, since y^r: have desired to see these trifles, doe so much for the authors sake as to publish them & passare. I am sure, whatsoeuer wanteth
in the composition, will be supplied by the execution, if y^r: will vouchsafe to look in y^r: most excellent Royale Tinta. or else if y^r: will be so good to us one day, as to come where y^r: may draw my self Swanne and me make a reasonable rate brouche about some lessons of this Book. The Psalms also most bouch and dolt use to sing are needed here in the margin, as also some of the songs. Y^r: must take the paine to let me have y^r: aduise upon chyld^y one of them, if y^r: will make me believe y^r: looked theran^t, and hold me still to be, as I am brought up

usq^{ue} gas dñe.

D^r d^r des m^s .

An^t h^t facie .

Al omnia iustit.

quare tristis .

Iniquitate misera .

Cognoscit dñe .

de profundis .

Confiditor ab .

O canticum sancti .

qui nro .

Sospit de del re p^m .

que fons nro .

Vox mea canit pro die .