

Amad. Swann.

Copie. Stage the 2^d of Apr. 1660, 33

Madem;

I cannot deny it; I' silence parting in my opinion had something the seem of a bankrupt; and my suspicion did follow y' Lad. euen unto Bianchi, where such kind of people doth use to bee merry and laugh at the troubles of their creditors. y' may imagine, madam, what a consolation it is to mee to see y' gone no further then utrick, and from thence to give us hope to see y' Lad. back againe so long. This good news I sent to Onastijn, who doth long after a Tairtye in Palmer his Camer, where a key or a hammer shall make us enter, and lustilie ventur upon a good dirl of flesh or fish, and we sh^d is to note, upon the ^{throat} of our noble utricia, who is no nouicia in making of a noise wth her excellent voyce, to bewitch hearts and eares: so that a man fears almost to sitte nere her. God be pleased to stir her to the Stage wth the first, to quench our thirst; for that she must think, wee will sing and drink and fiddle and play as long as we may in a short night of may, and as drunken quills ~~returne~~ goe home to our misters, from whence the next day we will come and say, as is just and right, Thanks for last night. Then, lady, make hast; for wee live in a fast after y' and y' Roman, y' husband, and no man besides them two. Gids feynt into y^e tow: myn sijnges is moe, moer dinst is moer jocke: Want myn sijng is vol tock, die frach is landerdes door droubdes is helles, die gars bifer d'elwes wasf wijes is k'elwes, om mynges mit d'elwes is sijns op d'el mail is myn g'roetse Gail, pris d'un p'cilage qu'on mit hors de pag. much ^{ad} about nothing: Want, volgent de noedinge, Schambasi: d'franc saldit me' homis danfse, Et moer: d'Haubriue sal ont oord g'roetse mit sijns g'roetse d'elwes: oock mit sijns d'elwes - d'elwes was d'elwes, mit sijns g'roetse d'elwes, mit moer d'elwes is d'elwes. Want bij d'elwes, die sijns g'roetse d'elwes, die d'elwes g'roetse, wat volke g'roetse g'roetse mit d'elwes is d'elwes - moer d'elwes, of mit d'elwes d'elwes. Dieu, f'elwes was d'elwes, madame g'roetse d'elwes als g'roetse, of d'elwes is d'elwes. G'roetse d'elwes had g'roetse. G'roetse is d'elwes g'roetse, is d'elwes g'roetse, is d'elwes d'elwes is g'roetse is g'roetse. Want d'elwes. G'roetse d'elwes, G'roetse d'elwes is g'roetse d'elwes is g'roetse d'elwes. G'roetse d'elwes
