

R. 15. Aug. 61

29 Bj n:1

Mijn Heer.

Wat uw D<sup>ts</sup> verdere vech v<sup>er</sup>de gel<sup>de</sup>
ringt de v<sup>er</sup>mit die niet v<sup>er</sup>reicht, zal uw D<sup>ts</sup> lieftelich niet zonder laefly, mit de bijgavende v<sup>er</sup>schiedne afnemen. Biddend dat uw D<sup>ts</sup> mede dooyend door v<sup>er</sup>bin gely beluude te zyn de v<sup>er</sup>dermooyend gode v<sup>er</sup>billid end misgelyk v<sup>er</sup>ay

Uw D<sup>ts</sup> v<sup>er</sup>trouwdigste
Dienaar

Dirck

Traudinius
1661

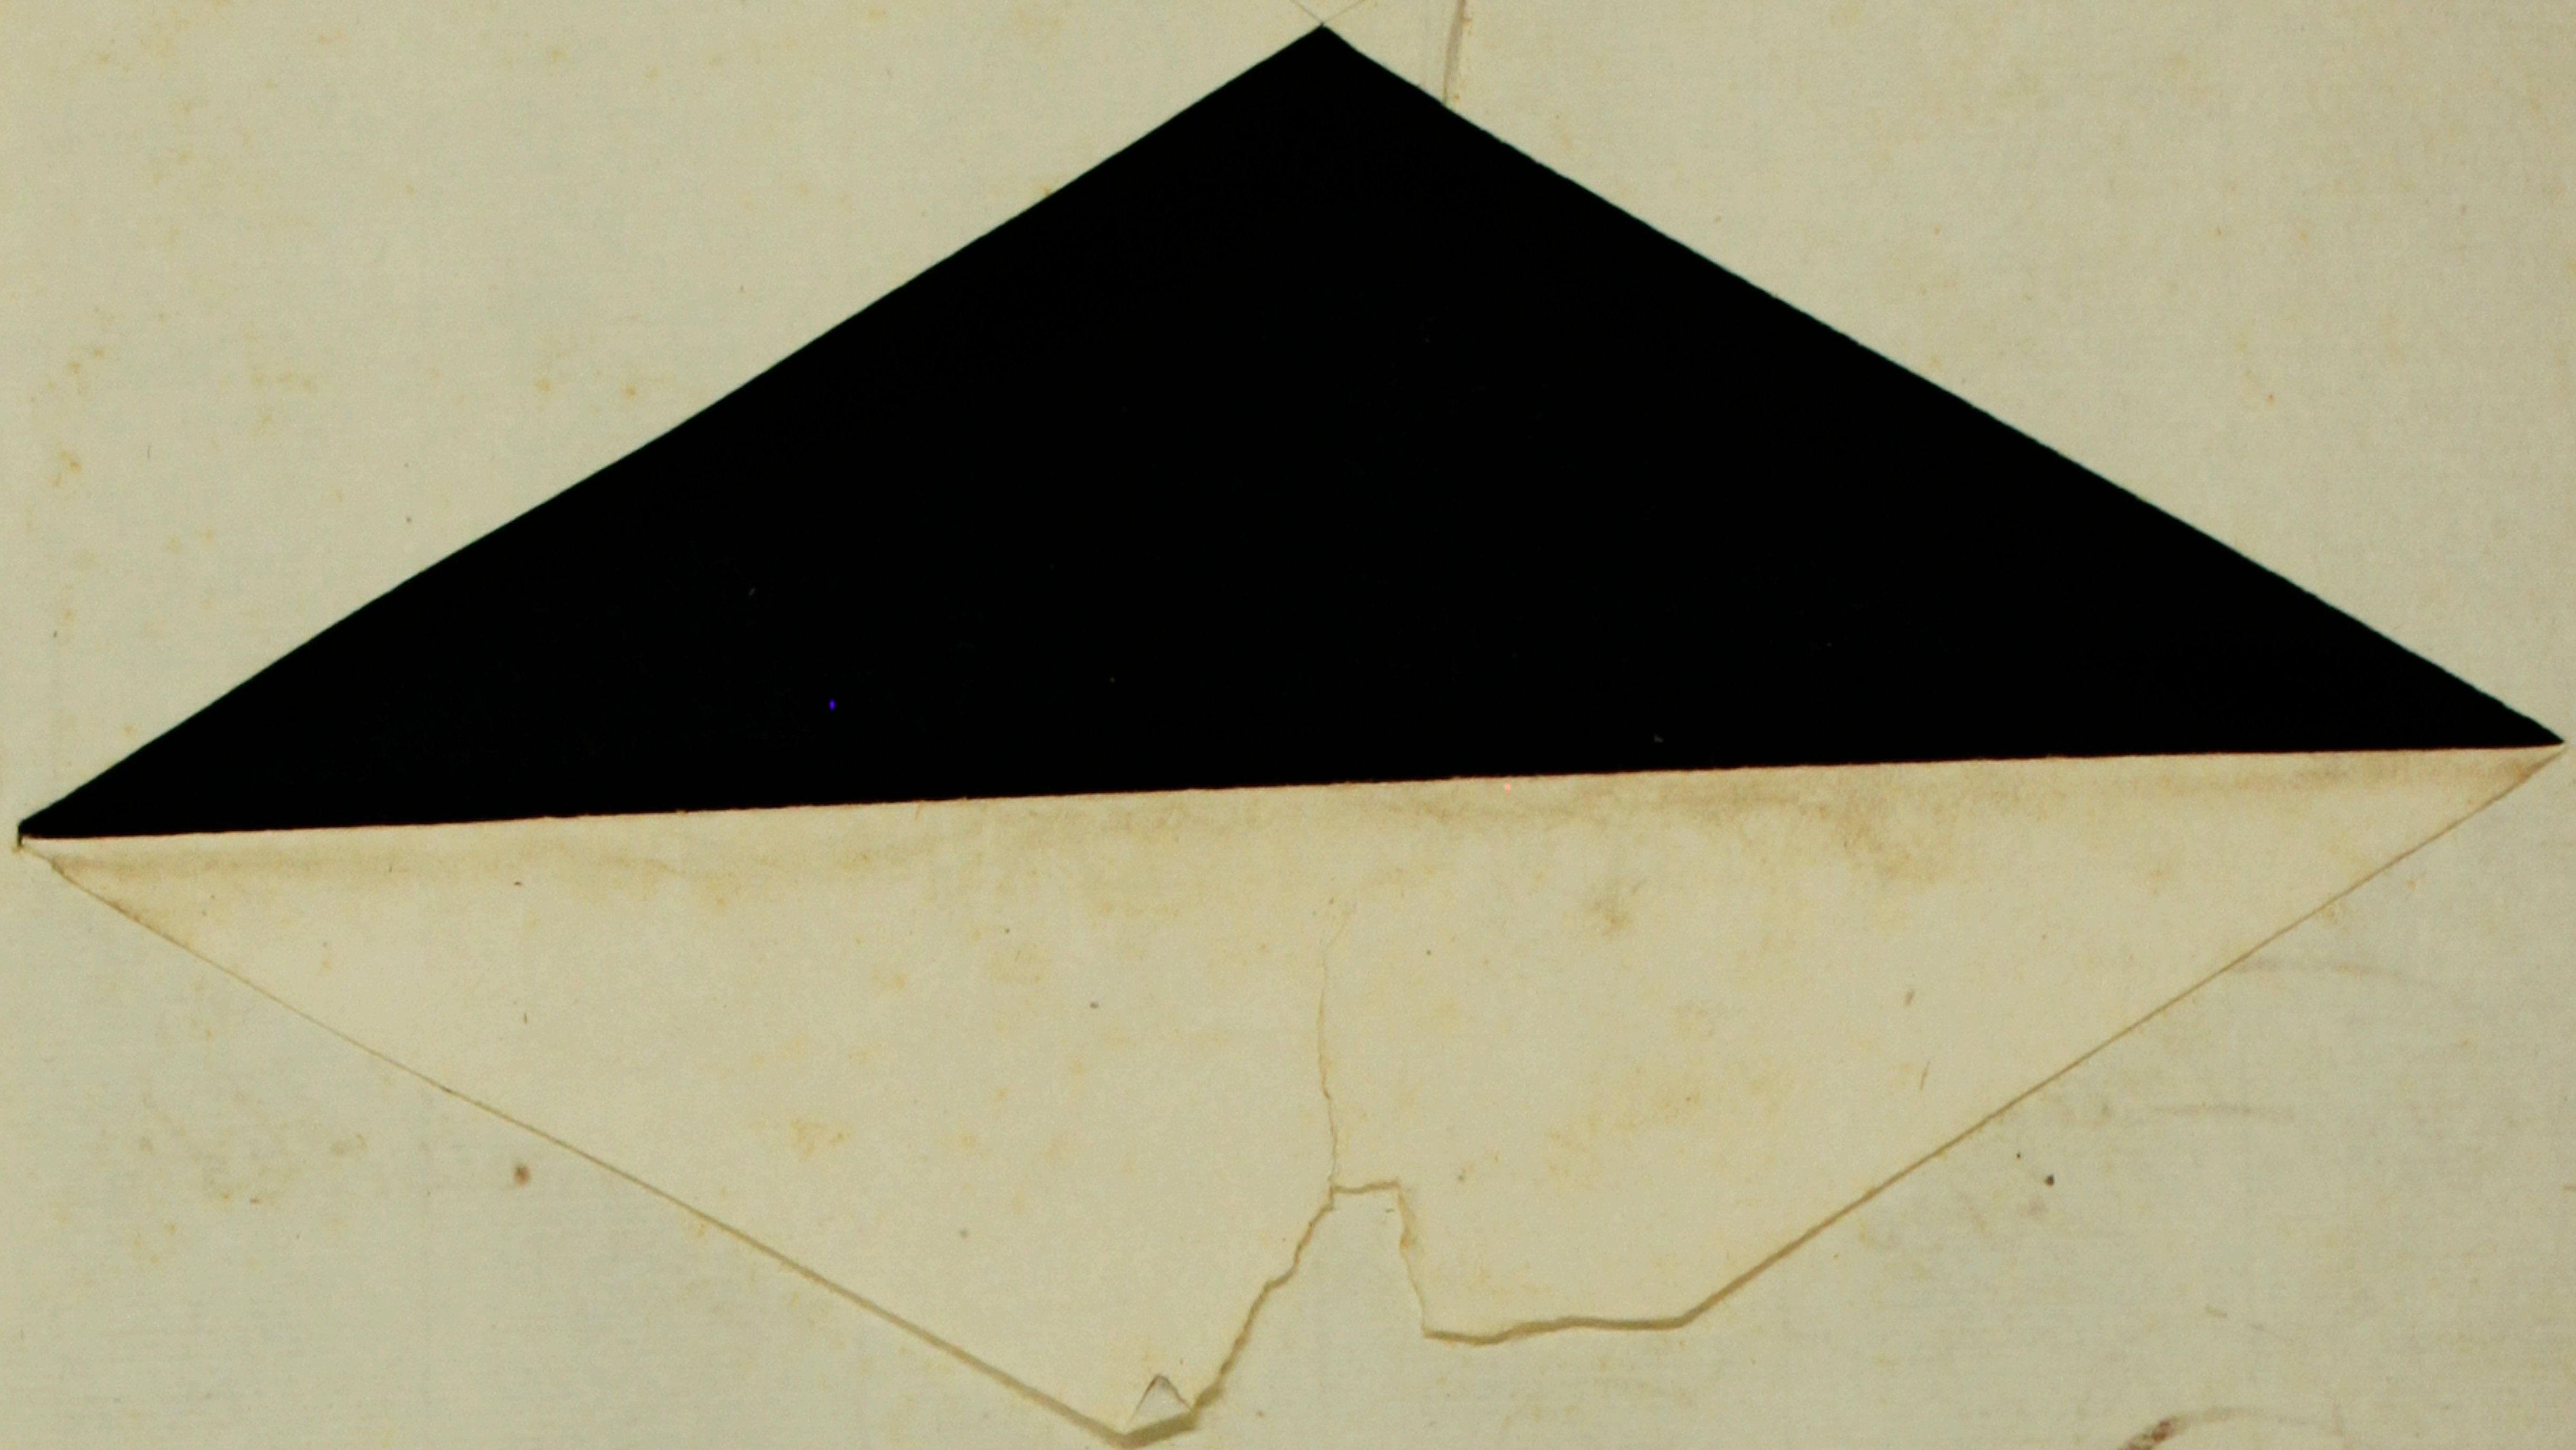

In Leyden den vij<sup>de</sup> v<sup>er</sup>ay Dyftemaend 1661.

Mr. [unclear]

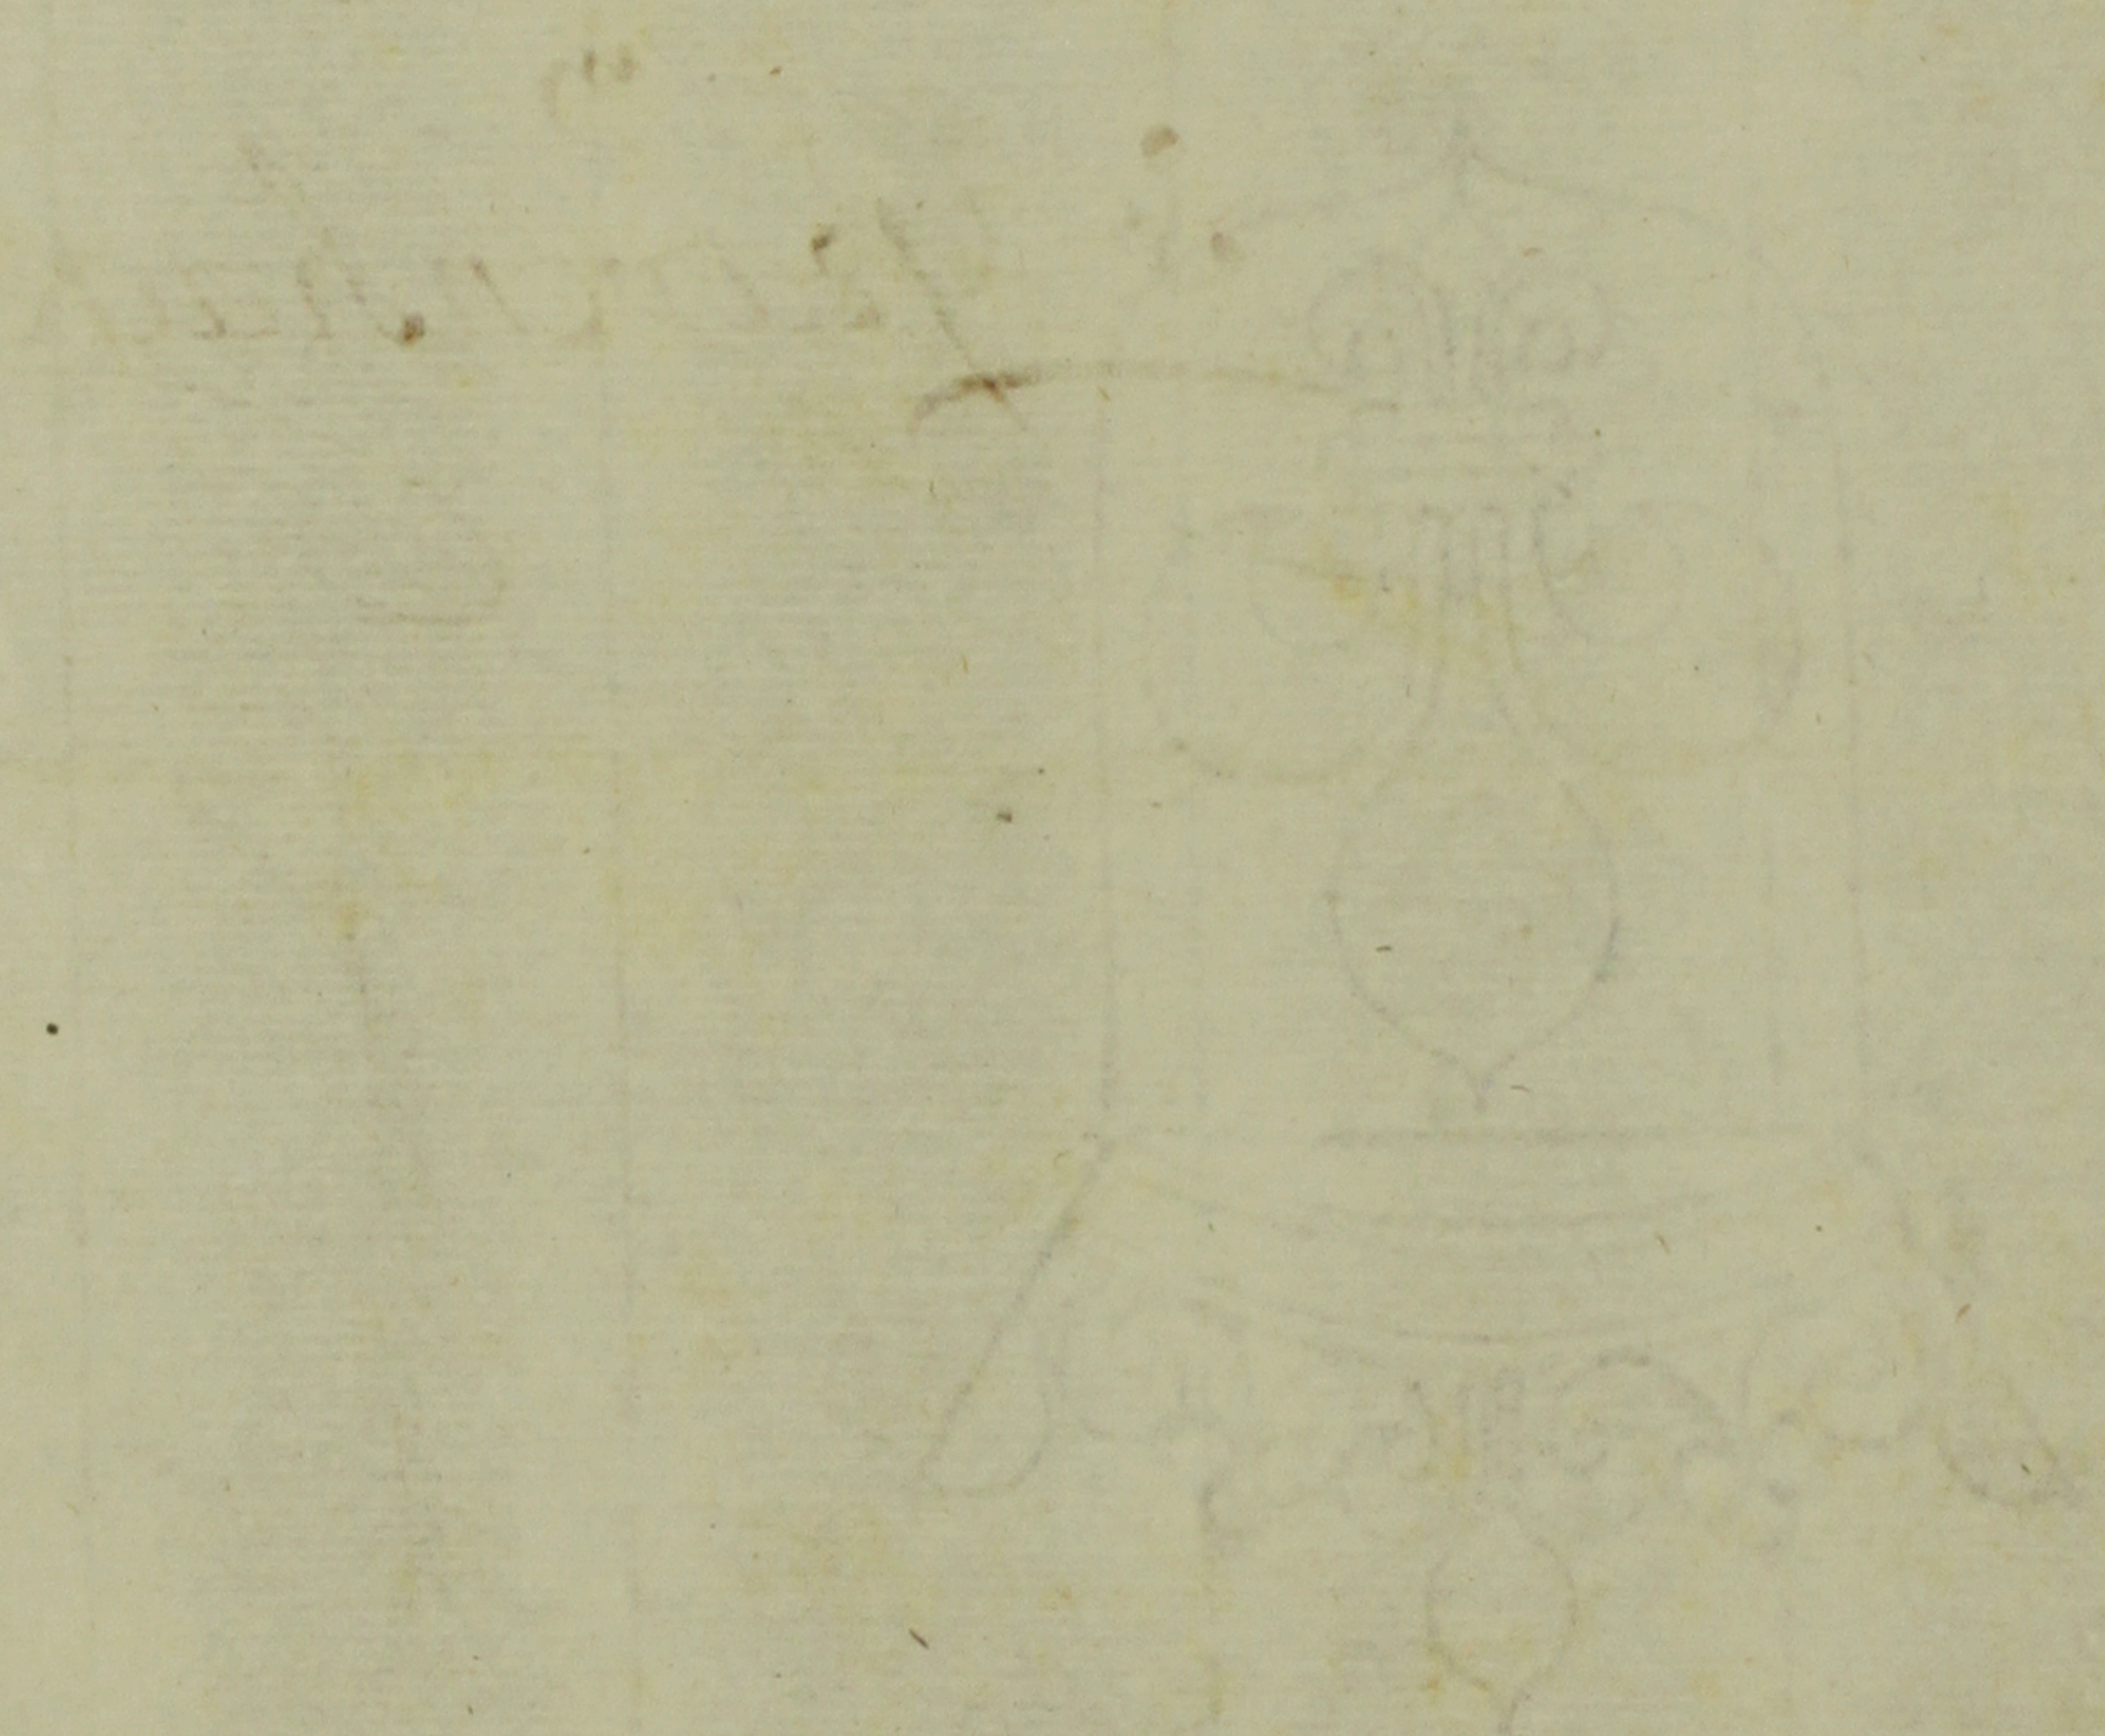

Dear Sir, I have the honor to receive your letter of the 14th inst. and am glad to hear that you are well. I am at present in the country and cannot write you more fully at present. I shall be in town again in a few days and will then write you more at length. I am, Sir, your obedient servant, [unclear]

[unclear signature]

[unclear date]

Faint, illegible handwriting, possibly a name or address, written in cursive script.

Edelen, Gestrengen, Hoog-Acht-
baren Heere

Deer Constantin Huygens, Hidder, Rader van Zuilichem, &c

in te Gravenhage.

[Faint, illegible handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.]